

CZAR TO QUIT

Abdication of the Russian Ruler Reported in London.

Melancholia the Cause of the Resignation—Creates Much Political Interest.

PARIS, France, Aug. 5.—A report of the impending abdication of the czar is printed in the London Times today and is the subject of much comment, especially with regard to how such an act would affect the Franco-Russian relations. The story is not given much credence, but many connect it with a dispatch printed here recently saying the czar is suffering from melancholia over the fact he had no heir and also over the disappointing results of the peace conference. Many believe there is a critical situation at St. Petersburg.

WILL DO THE WORK.

Col. Hays Predicts Aguinaldo's Defeat by American Cavalry.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Col. Jack Hays, of Indian fighting fame, one of the most noted men in the United States army, said today: "I think when the cavalry goes after Aguinaldo the outfit of rebels won't last long. The government ought to have had more mounted troops there from the start." Hays left today for Manila, where he will take the cavalry command.

THE USUAL RESULT.

Trial of the Feudists at Harboursville Creates Bad Feeling.

HARBORVILLE, Ky., Aug. 5.—The Baker-Howard feud trial is stirring up old enmity and strife among the feudists. They may not wait till the trial is over to renew their bloody warfare. Emma and John Baker, relatives of Jim Baker, who is now on trial, testified today that James killed William Howard and Birch Storms.

CONTRARY REPORTS.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Lloyd's agent at Manila cables that San Fernando had been recaptured by the Filipinos, who also burned the United States steamer Saturnus.

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 5.—The Saturnus, burned on the west coast of Luzon Wednesday. The ship is reported missing.

COVERED WITH LAVA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Passengers on the steamer, which has just arrived from Honolulu, say that thirty-five square miles of territory in the neighborhood of the recent volcanic eruptions in Hawaii are covered with lava.

FIVE LIVES LOST.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 5.—Five persons were drowned early this morning by the capsizing of a row boat in the Potomac river near here. The dead are: Wm. Lyman, Edward Gacony, A. Deems, Edward Gary and Mrs. Hoover.

WILL BE ACQUITTED.

MADRID, Spain, Aug. 5.—The supreme council has decided to acquit Gen. Toral and the other officers connected with the surrender of Santiago to the Americans.

DEWEY AT NAPLES.

NAPLES, Italy, Aug. 5.—The cruiser Olympia, with Admiral Dewey on board, arrived here this morning. Salutes were exchanged as the famous vessel entered the port.

LOOKS PALE.

HOTEL CHAMPLAIN, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Vice President Hobart and family arrived here this morning. Mr. Hobart looked pale and weak. Mr. McKinley met him at the station.

YELLOW FEVER REPORTS.

HAMPTON, Va., Aug. 5.—The yellow fever report as given out from the soldiers home says there have been three deaths since yesterday, but no new cases.

TO GO NORTH.

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 5.—Ambassador Choate goes to Scotland next week. While in the north he will pay a visit to Andrew Carnegie.

DECIDED DIFFERENCE.

HAVANA, Aug. 5.—During July there were 672 deaths here, as against 2,063 in '98.

You will save money by buying your clothing, furnishing goods, hats, caps, shoes, trunks and valises from the Grand Leader, 323 Broadway.

FINED $5 AND COSTS.

Abram Bogard, colored, was this morning tried before Justice Winchester on a charge of using insulting language towards Pearl Matthews, colored, and was fined $5 and costs.

Thirty dinner sets were received at the Arcade Wednesday. Only two are left. Get in the rush.

FALSE, OF COURSE

Olympia Himself Would Have Resented the Indignity

Yellow Story of an Austrian Correspondent Which Won't Go Down on This Side.

PARIS, France, Aug. 5.—The Vienna correspondent of the Libre Parole declared that Admiral Dewey was expected to visit Austria because of the alleged interview in which he was quoted as saying "our next war will be with Germany." The Austrian government requested the admiral to contradict this, says the correspondent, but he refused to do so, whereupon he was given twenty-four hours in which to quit the country.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Office's here do not believe that Admiral Dewey's visit to Trieste was disagreeable. If he found himself unwelcome he never confided in the navy department, and if Austria showed him any hospitality after the alleged interview predicting war with Germany, the admiral confided in no one regarding it. The state department certainly heard nothing of it from the American minister and therefore no credence is given to the story. The naval officials further declare that the Olympia stayed at Trieste for precisely the period required to procure a clean bill of health, and that she went there for nothing else.

TOBACCO STEALING.

Large Quantities Said to Be Stolen Daily and Sold.

It is stated on good authority that a large amount of tobacco is daily stolen from the various warehouses here by an organized gang of tobacco thieves. Loose leaf is taken, and hundreds of pounds a day are stolen, according to reports. Negroes and a few white men are said to be members of the gang, and the tobacco is always taken from the factories where it is kept in large quantities, in order that it may not be missed.

The first known of the whoeats stealing was recently, through some Illinois farmers, who raise very little tobacco, and depend on Paducah for their supply. Most of the stolen tobacco is taken across the river and sold to farmers, to shanty houses up and down the river, while some of it is disposed of in the city to jobbers and retailers.

The warehousemen should take steps to break up the custom of stealing and keep a lookout for the thieves.

THE WORTEN ADDITION.

100 Town Lots Have Been Mapped Off and Made Into a Suburb.

Mr. J. M. Worten, the lawyer, has just completed the plat for a new addition to Paducah, to be called the "Worten addition." It comprises 100 town lots near the old Baumer place, and one of the streets is named "Smithland avenue" and the other Worten street. It is expected to build up that part of town at once and make it one of the most thriving suburbs.

DEATH OF FRED CLUMFOOT.

Fred Clumfoot, a man who was shot in the leg on a shanty boat several weeks ago, was brought here and taken to the county poor farm, died last night after suffering weeks of agony.

Soon after he came here his limb was amputated, and never healed, because of improper nourishment, it is claimed. Recently another operation was performed with a hope of relieving him. Little if anything is known of him, and the remains will be buried at the expense of the county today.

ODAY IN BRIEF.

Jediar Palmer, the noted English boxer, Ted Sloan, the jockey, and Israel Zarwill, author and lecturer, were among the passengers who landed at New York by steamer Campana this morning.

THE NEWS DEAL

New Association Takes Charge Monday—Organization Then.

Leader to Be Made Into a Daily Paper for the Support of Goebel.

The new association that has bought out the Evening News will assume charge Monday morning, and at a clock will organize and the transfer of papers take place. Tomorrow and Monday the new arrangement, as is stated, "will be in the city" to take control.

It is probable that there will be a change in the force and it is given out that there will be some decided improvements in the paper, especially in regard to news facilities.

There are eight people in the new association, it is understood. The paper will be against the Goebelticket.

Mr. Ed Leigh, who has been with the News for some months, retires with the change of management. It is understood that he has already made arrangements to go into business for himself at some southwestern Kentucky point. Mr. Tandy will remain with the News for a time, it is also reported. Mr. L. S. Cobb, of Louisville, is not coming here to go to work on the News, but to visit his mother. He has a fine place now and has no desire to make a change.

It is also probable that the Leader, now issued as a Sunday paper, will in a few days be issued as a daily. It will be a Democratic paper and will support Goebel. This is a recent inside understanding.

NOT ENTHUSIASTIC

Only About Forty Democrats Were Out at the Meeting.

Although the petition asking that a Democratic club be organized last night was signed by 425 Democrats, there were but 40 there last night when the time arrived for calling the meeting together at the city hall.

It was known as a move of the Goebel faction, and the result must have been anything but encouraging. Mr. John W. Baker was chosen chairman of the convention, Mr. T. L. Price secretary and Mayor James M. Laug treasurer. The latter was not present.

Another effort will be made to organize a permanent club at some date in the near future. One inducement offered is that all members will be taken to Mayfield free on a special train when the Goebeltickets and Countertops have their big blow out there on the 12th.

NEWS NOTES

The Dreyfuss trial is all ready to begin Monday.

Richard Croker, the Tammany chief, is to sail from England home in a few days.

Miss Fannie Goodwin, of Christian county, who shot Byron Alligree for insulting her, was dismissed without prosecution by the court. Alligree has skipped the country, not caring to face an exposure of his conduct toward Miss Goodwin.

Robert Bird, a noted scout who served with Buffalo Bill and Texas Jack, died in Cuba, where he was serving with the American troops.

The Yaqui Indian insurrection in Mexico is spreading. A whole family has been carried away by the Indians, and further murders are reported.

Bradstreet's reports a great increase for July in the bank clearings over the country. Only two cities show a decrease.

The street railway and electric system at Richmond, Va., has changed hands.

Eight Mormon churches have been destroyed by mobs in Kentucky within a year, and a demand is to be made upon Governor Bradley for protection.

A Pennsylvania man killed his three small children and then committed suicide.

Mrs. W. K. Cardwell, wife of the steward at the Lexington asylum, was attacked by a lunatic and badly beaten.

WILL CERTAINLY RUN.

The excursion advertised to leave for Old Point, Aug. 9th, will run without fail, going via Richmond and Petersburg thence to Norfolk and Virginia Beach. All passengers who desire to visit New York and other cities, can take a steamer at Norfolk.

There is absolutely no danger in this route and it is equally as delightful. Make your arrangements to go.

J. W. YOUNG DEAD

He Passes Away After a Week's Illness.

Was 65 Years Old—Leaves Two Children—Funeral Arrangements.

Mr. J. W. Young, aged 65, father of the well known laundryman, died this morning at 8 o'clock at his home at Tenth and Madison streets, of bowel complaint, after a week's illness. The deceased was born in Tennessee and came to Paducah 13 years ago. His wife died a few months ago.

Mr. Young was a respected christian gentleman, and leaves a wife and a family of children to mourn his demise. His children are two in number, Mr. Will Young, proprietor of the Star laundry, and Miss Jennie Young.

NEW CARRIER.

Trouble of Paducah is a Lack of Sidewalks in Places.

Postmaster Fisher, in his efforts to procure more carriers for Paducah, has ascertained that one of the most serious drawbacks is the absence of sidewalks in portions of the city where free delivery is so greatly needed, as in Rowlandtown. The postoffice will establish free delivery in no portion of a city where there are no pavements.

MONEY SAVED IS MONEY MADE

POLICE COURT

Dead Rats Cause Trouble—Also Democratic Politics.

Concealed Weapons Found on John Porter, Colored, Last Night.

Judge Sanders said this morning that hereafter persons throwing dead rats in the streets or gutters, or anywhere else where they may contaminate the atmosphere, will be prosecuted and fined.

Goora Theodore, a German, was charged with having hired Bul Brown, the fisherman, to kill nine rats and throw them in the street. He said he had the rats in a trap and intended to carry them to the river and drown them when Brown came along and took the trap away and let the dogs kill them in the street, "do make some fun a leddie."

The charge was dismissed and Brown was ordered to take the nine rodents to the river and throw them in. He promised he would do it.

Jim Douglas and J. W. Turpin, two Democrats, were charged with engaging in a fight. Turpin, it seems, said he was for John Young Brown and some of the others began abusing him, saying he was no man. He left the saloon and Douglas followed him. They then had a few rounds, as a result of which Douglas's eye was in mourning this morning.

Turpin was fined $3 and costs and Douglas $1 and costs.

John Hale and Will Blank, colored, were charged with gaming. They were caught at the Union hotel yesterday afternoon, and Hale got away from officer Ingram. The cases were continued until Monday.

John Porter, colored, was charged with carrying a deadly weapon, but said he was not guilty. As the witnesses were not present the case was continued.

SUNDAY BASEBALL.

The L. A. L's and the Metropolis base ball teams will play at the park grounds Sunday afternoon. The game will be called at 2 o'clock sharp. Admission will be free. Immediately after the ball game there will be a matinee in the park theater of the beautiful comedy drama, "Laughs and Shadows."

SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1899.

The Republican state central committee has established its headquarters at the Galt house, Louisville. Nice rooms have been secured.

There will be a number of Democratic speeches made in various sections of the state Monday. The speakers will be the fellows who are hunting for the pie the party hopes to have to distribute and not the men behind the ballots. The latter will be at home at ending to their individual interests and doing some very effectual thinking.

It is useless to assail the convincing speech of John Young Brown at Lexington. It stands for itself.

Our esteemed contemporary, the News, is getting in some ambitious efforts for Goebel before the "drop."

It makes no difference whether Mr. Wm. Goebels an agnostic, gold bug or what-not, he is not the choice of his party and is best. The disaffection rampant since the nomination of the man from Kenton, who went into the convention with less than a third of the votes and came out with a majority, is adequate proof that he is not the choice of his party. The bold and determined move to put out another ticket by a sold and honest Democrat as there are in the party bespeaks an old and honest Democrat as the Goebel men, in the bitterness of impending defeat, may shout "bolter, traitor, renegade" or other such terms at them if they will, but it cuts no ice. The venom of their resentment comes from the clutching conviction of inevitable and ignominious defeat. Nothing can save them.

If the Goebels sweat and fume through the balance of the canvass as they have for the past few weeks there will not be enough of them left to interest the Brownies and the Republicans will have a walk over for a fact. The Goebels are dying hard indeed.

The Owensboro Messenger hits the News a hard lick about the reported sale of the paper to the Brown fact on.

The News bolts very slowly, if it is to bolt at all. But Monday's day now set for the change of proprietors, and then may come the editorial change also.

Some of Brown's vilest abusers have in the past asked him for great favors, and may have the same thing to do over. There is such a thing as history repeating itself, you know.

It looks strange that Democrats who have known John Young Brown intimately for years, who have regarded him as a man of honor and integrity, and an exponent of true democracy, should so suddenly find that they were all those years laboring under a delusion—because he now dares to do right and they don't.

A vote for Brown is a vote for Taylor—News. Yes, but it's not a vote for Goebel.

One of the principal objections some people have to the "money octopus" is that they haven't the use of one of his tentacles.

The Evening News says that those who went into the conventions were pledged to support the nominee. The News failed to mention the fact that the nominee got his votes by the betrayal of the trust reposed in the delegates by the people. Seven of McCracken's delegates voted for Mr. Goebel against Mr. Hardin. They knew Mr. Goebel was not preferred by the Democrats over Mr. Hardin. They are not pledged to support a nomination thus fraudulently secured.

It now seems the dawn of the day when the voice of reason, or the conscience, is to be heard, and heeded, by the public in public affairs. When the crack of the party lash affrights no one, more than the alien song of the mosquito at the harmless buzz of the fly. When the whole population can no longer be embraced in the two classes of office-holders and office-seekers. When the nominee, has small claims, if based wholly upon that fact. This being the case a better is entitled to all the consideration any partisan is. The better follows his conviction as truly and as honestly as the other partisans, and if ever there existed a just reason for rivals in ones own party the Goebel machine in its Louisville machinations furnished it. The Lexington convention like the conference, will be at least a free expression of those sent there for it can be safely predicted the police will not dominate the delegates or the chairman at that meeting.

The Democrats are not satisfied with the varied assortment of offices they have represented in their party. They are now trying to ring of origin.

Mr. Goebel may be a stock owner, but he can't slide into the gubernatorial chair.

If the members of the present city council who run for re-election do not run on their records, what do they expect to run on? If they do run on their records, what do they expect to get?

The Democratic papers which are saying so much about the outwitting existing in the mountains show ignorance of the facts when they say the conditions are worse now than they have ever been. The facts are to the contrary and though the conditions are a disgrace to the state they are better than ever the case under Democratic rule. How to the facts, ye fault finders, and let the chips fall where they will.

If Gen. Taylor had no other accomplishment than that of having brought suit and suppressed the "Auditor" agent" steal, the gratitude of the people ought to elect him. A case of such flagrant stealing, and so long permitted, ought to have been suppressed by force if not by law before it was, but the Democrats wanted it continued, and the Republicans stopped it the first moment the formal steps of a law suit could reach it.

The time was, and not long ago, that party machinery was so corrupt and unpopular in the city of Louisville that a Democratic nomination was a guarantee of defeat. Does the most famous machine that the local party machinery was ever corrupt to the extent that was touched by the food and fraudulent scheme worked there June 21-22? Or does he imagine that the point of loathing and contemptible unpopularity, was ever sounded by a mere local piece of villainy? Does any one believe that the rural communities are more obtuse than the urban? If so he is destined to a surprise when the vote is counted in November. The counter machine of the Goebels can't save the ringsters from the deluge they are to be victims of. A few hundreds, a few thousands it may be, of shortage might have been or may be supplied by that delectable machine, but the widening thousands that will fall on and crush them in the lides of November, will destroy even to the indurated gill of Goebel himself.

The Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, in considering the Lexington independent democratic convention, pertinently says: "The movement that took definite form at Lexington is fraught with deepest meaning and is prophetic of an era of revolution within the ranks of the Kentucky Democracy, the end of which will be reorganization and reform. In that it congratulates the Democratic party of the state. But, meantime, it congratulates the state at large that, pending the purification process, it will be found necessary to continue the state government in Republican hands for safe keeping, and that the trust will be so ably and honestly administered as to recommend its permanency." This is the picture well painted. How do you like it?

NEW CONVENTION.

There is a regular call out for the independent democratic convention to be held in Lexington on the 16th. Under it the Democrats of Kentucky are urged to assemble at their respective county seats in mass convention on Saturday, August 12, 1899, at 1 o'clock p. m., or at such other time or place prior to August 16, 1899, as will be most convenient, and appoint delegates, as directed by the Lexington meeting, to attend the general convention in Lexington, Ky., August 16, 1899.

When Patti Demanded a Doll.
Although Adeline Patti has recently installed a new head at her castle at Craig-y-Nos, it is doubtful if Baron Cederstrom will be other than a figure-head. When, in her young days, the famous singer was touring America, the impresario who was managing little Adeline as an "infant prodigy" found it necessary to give her a valuable little toy each time she appeared. One evening, in Cincinnati, he forgot the usual gift. "Very well," said Patti, "then I don't sing!" "But the house is filled and the audience is waiting," said the distracted manager. Entreaties proved vain; the little singer refused to go on the stage. After a vast amount of trouble the manager purchased a toy and tossed it at the feet of the songstress, who at once tripped on the stage and began to sing as only Patti can sing.

Many women think the bearing of children is a necessary period of great pain and distress. They doubt whether any medicine can relieve their sufferings. Well may they hesitate about taking those injurious internal mixtures so widely sold. But they may place implicit faith in the

In Society.

Social circles continue dull although the past week was a little livelier than the preceding one. The dance at the park Thursday evening, several luncheon-theater parties at the park and one or two other small affairs were the only events on the social calendar.

The only thing in prospect for next week is the circus Tuesday and every one will undoubtedly turn out for that.

This is the season of picnic and luncheon parties and every evening a party or two, with baskets loaded with good things, can be seen being away to the park or the woods there to while away a few hours pleasantly.

The dance given by the members of the younger set at the park Thursday evening was a very pleasant affair notwithstanding the extremely warm weather. One thoroughly enjoyable feature of the dance was the splendid music furnished by a German itinerant band from St. Louis. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thompson, Henry Burnett, A. J. Decker, J. A. Rudy, Louis Riecke, Messdames W. E. McHenry, T. G. Leach, Geo. Flournoy, Ad. Rasch, of Evansville and Minnie Rankin, Misses Banie Clark, Floss Owen, Jane Rivers, Marie Nob, Reube Corbett, Reube Alford, May Corbett, Marie and Elizabeth Bell, George Hensley, Ruth Weil, Emma Reed, Sophie Burnett, May, Minnie and Hattie Terrell, Kate and Ella Sanders, Elizabeth Snodgrass, Corrie Saffrans, of Memphis; Cross of Memphis; Whittener, of Mayfield; Leonard, of Edgely; Hall, of McLeansboro; Messrs. Walter Johnson, Cecil Lacy, Frank Riecke, Jamie and Percy Paxton, Harris Rankin, Chas. Humphreys, Eddie Woolfolk, Jr., Gus Thompson, Willie Mannick, Frank Ferriman, Henry Rudy, Roy Culey, Charley Fisher, Bob Noble, Herbert Hawkins, Wallace Weil, Tom Corbett, J. P. Smith, Dr. Howell, Henry Weisinger, Dow Wilcox, Sick Long, Edna Wilcox.

Mrs. Millie Davis entertained a few friends, at the home of her father, Capt. J. H. Fowler, Monday evening complimentary to Miss Itakane Hall, of McLeansboro, who is the present guest of Mrs. Wm. Hughes.

Miss Bessie Patterson entertained a few friends at luncheon at the park Tuesday evening.

A jolly party of young folks was the guest of Mrs. I. D. Wilcox at a luncheon-theater party at the park Tuesday evening.

Mr. Edwin Thompson returned Thursday from a sojourn at Dawson.

Mrs. W. E. McHenry left Friday afternoon for Cerulean Springs.

Mrs. R. E. Ashbrook left Friday for Dixon Springs.

Miss Mary Corbett returned this week from a visit to friends in several Eastern Kentucky towns.

Mr. Joe Shinn left Wednesday for a visit to friends in Owensboro and Hopkinsville.

Miss Sallie Leonard, of Edgely, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Wheeler Campbell, on Seventh street.

Miss Ella Brandon, of Natchez, who has been visiting Miss Ode Puryear, left today to visit friends in Vine Grove, Ky.

Miss May Roberts returned to her home Friday, after a visit to Miss Ode Puryear.

A good number of Paducah people leave next week on the trip to Niagara Falls. They go to Evansville and join an excursion from that city.

The Old Point Comfort trip will also take out a good number of Paducah people next week.

Mr. Edwin Wilson leaves next week for Niagara and will go from there to Canada for a short stay.

The members of the Jewish circle gave a delightful dance at the park pavilion Tuesday evening, complimentary to Misses Jeanette Marks, of Louisville, and Blanche Brunswick, of Columbus, Ind., two charming young ladies who are the guests of Miss Marks, on West Broadway.

Observationsat Random.

Offentimes a lawyer stumbles on a pretty tough proposition in his cluttered career. The other day a colored washer woman called in about holding a man's washing for the 35 cents due on it. She said she still had the clothes, on which she had faithfully performed the abominable essential. He declined to pay her and she threatened to sue her for the possession of them, and she then thought herself of consulting a lawyer, one who didn't know, perhaps as much about washing clothes as she did, but he knew more law. After an exhaustive explanation of the entire transaction, from beginning to end, she asked the lawyer if she had a right to keep the clothes, and the lawyer replied that of course she had. She then asked the amount of her bill, and seemed grateful when the attorney told her he wouldn't charge her anything, but would pay her the 35 cents she claimed for washing if she would get out.

A desperate battle was waged near Paducah a day or two ago that was never hauled up before the courts nor reported in the papers, because it was a matter that concerned principally those most intimately connected with the neighborhood, and among them is Don Juan who seems to be a great favorite with the g. s. His spouse is a large, ungainly and shapely creature that presents anything but the accredited appearance so commonly ascribed to gypsies. It seems the husband is very fond of her—at a distance—and secretly has a younger and far more beautiful innamorata. The other day he and a gentleman friend went out for a drive. He had his sweetheart and the other young man had his. All went well until on their return they had almost reached home. It was then that the old woman came across them. They tried to escape, but to no avail. She nabbed her recalcitrant lord and what she didn't whip him with wasn't in sight. She ambushed him with railings, her fist, sticks and everything else, and finally drove him away from the buggy and made him walk home. The girl and the other couple had by this time disappeared and gone to parts unknown, where they probably are yet.

Her mind was evidently on birds and how to catch them. He was a bachelor—a confirmed one; not a woman hater, but he simply didn't want to marry, and was proof against the wiles and snares of those who sought to place his neck under the matrimonial yoke, says "Bright" in the St. Louis Register. The old fellow said that she wanted to marry, maybe she only wanted the opportunity to say "no" when she could succeed in leading him up to the proposing point. But that point seemed after all. But there came a day when the sunshine of victory seemed about to dispel the cloud of defeat. The Whyness of the Which club, of which they were both members, was having its annual outing on the banks of the Wallich far away—a glorious place to make love, and to bring a reluctant lover to law. Nothing could have been more pleasing than the soft glow of the morning sun drifting through the tree tops, and the delightful coolness of the overhanging branches and vines, and the green carpet of velvet grass beneath. The birds twittered and sang and made love in the wildwood. It was a paradise for a poet or an artist, but whether it was to be a heaven for her was yet to be determined. She had exhausted all those pretty little graces and coquettish, with a girl as so familiar, to bring him to her feet, but in vain. Utterly disgusted with the adroitness with which he had warded off all attacks, she turned to a mutual friend, and with a pretty affectation of disunity, said: "Professor, tell me how to catch Mr. Bunk! He ought to get married. He's big enough, and he's certainly old enough. I have exhausted all my resources. Please tell me what to do? Shall I get some aid?"

A great many people fail to appreciate the utterances or writings of the late Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, because they are so prejudiced against him. Many are content to accept the opinion of some who are thus biased, in preference to reading and deciding for themselves, when by the latter course they would become warm admirers of him.

The other day a well known gentleman found an extract in his daily paper from one of Mr. Ingersoll's lectures, in which he paid a touching tribute to the laugh of a little child. He read it to his wife and asked her what she thought of it.

"Why, it's perfectly beautiful! It's grand!" she promptly exclaimed. "Bob did," proudly returned the husband, who had always, to the intense disgust of his wife, been a patient and submissive admirer of the great agnostic.

"Oh!" was all she said, and it was in a disdainful tone, but her husband is confident she will never express herself again against Ingersoll as she formerly did. Other people might profit by the story.

A certain young lady of Paducah considers herself quite a "Jonah," if the terms are permissible under the circumstances. Her particular ill-luck is with young men who take her buggy riding. Somehow she can never enjoy a buggy ride with anyone, no matter how gentle the horse. Something always happens. Either the harness breaks, a wheel comes off, the horse lays down and refuses to budge, or runs away and demolishes the buggy and comes near killing the occupants.

One of the first rides she ever took was with a young man who was thrown from the vehicle and seriously hurt. For weeks he was critically ill. After that another young man was thrown out and injured, and the third one, a short time ago, completed the list of those who had suffered serious consequences from driving with her. Now she is by all the young men considered a "Jonah" and they are afraid to take her riding—unless it's on a street car.

The young lady has never been able to formulate an explanation of why her experiences are so disastrous, but she frankly and laughingly admits that for a young man to go buggy riding with her is not counting her— but counting death, she is very anxious for the automobiles to be introduced in Paducah and see what the consequences of a ride in them would be.

LITERARY CHATS.

The publishers of Ainslee's Magazine have every reason to feel proud in their August number, for certainly its contents are well worth the perusal of the most fastidious. Among the contributors are, F. Hopkins Smith, with a delightful story, Gen. A. W. Greeley, chief signal officer, U. S. A., writes of The Evolution of the Signal Corps, Arthur Henry, contributes Millionaire Socialists, other fiction is from the pens of F. Marion Crawford, Robert W. Chambers, Morgan Robertson and John Luther Long. Lack of space compels us to disregard details, although the temptation is great.

One is never disappointed in Lippincott's. The August number as usual, comes up to its high standard. The complete novel, Fortune's Vassals, by Sarah Barnwell Eliot, will be given a fuller notice next week. Another story of some note is, Noah's Ark, by L. Zangwill. It is full of interest, and carries one back to the time when a certain Noah endeavored to rear a New Jerusalem near Buffalo, N. Y. Other contributions are, F. Hopkinson Smith, Lynch, by Maurice Thompson; Woman, A Phase of Modernity, by Ellen Olney Kirk; Wireless Telegraphy Through Scientific Eyes, by George F. Barker, L. L. D. The poetry is very good.

Valley and farmland meet the west, Purple and gold and green; Orchard and vineyard, song and rest, Where their old world wars have been.

Over the gleaners lightly sings The lark to the falling sun, Over that grave of far-off things And old wars lost and won.

And over the hills where long ago Strange old world warriors met, How sweet the purple vineyards grow, How well the fields forget— Arthur J. Stringer, in Ainslee's Magazine.

Below we republish a few excerpts from an editorial in the New York Freeman's Journal, by Dr. Lambert. We withhold any comment, preferring to let our readers form their own opinions. He begins by saying: "For some years before his death Robert G. Ingersoll had been falling away from public attention. He was growing old, and took a less conspicuous part in politics and other public affairs. This is a busy world, society lives fast and requires variety and novelty in its amusements. The idol of today is apt to be relegated to the lumber closet tomorrow. It requires a great talent to attract general public attention by his ability, a greater, in good or evil, to hold it long, and a still greater to hold it permanently and pass his name down to posterity as a landmark in the rapid current of time."

"After his lecture on Moses, and one or two others, the public became familiar with Ingersoll's whole range of thought on philosophy and theology. It was a narrow range, and his subsequent lectures and magazine articles were a repetition of Moses, ghosts, etc. Passing events gave occasion for variety in the way of digression, but on the whole Ingersoll's lectures for the last few years were a repetition of the first two or three that brought him into public notice. Had it not been for his great oratorical powers his wit telling—so that to an American audience he would years ago have suffered the fate of forgotten actors, poets and novelists."

"It is a question whether Ingersoll ever had a clear idea what he believed. His lectures and writings are almost exclusively devoted to telling what he did not believe. Instead of seeking something positive and permanent to hold to, he was forever fretting to find out defects in what others held as positive and permanent."

"If there is anything he insisted on and reiterated more than another it is liberty, freedom of thought, freedom of will," says Dr. Lambert. "No one has spoken more eloquently on this subject than he. But he did not see that another principle of his destroyed utterly liberty, freedom of thought and of will."

Dr. Lambert's opinion is that Ingersoll's antipathy to Christianity did not arise from his imagination, emotions and sentiment. These had been wounded to an insufferable degree by a false presentation of Christianity in his early youth."

As to his responsibility the writer says nothing, leaving that to his greater judge.

One finds much interest and pleasure in The Youth's Companion for August 3. Bettina Mazzi, by Mildred C. Watkins; The Day of the Typhoon, The Cone Mount Captive, by T. Dwight Hunt, Jr., are graphically told. Aside from these there are several more, and also papers of much good reading.

Pub. Official History of the War With Spain, is the title of a recent publication, by Marat Halstead. It is massive in a way, having something like eight hundred pages. It has numerous illustrations and maps, and so far as one may judge seems to be the most accurate and complete work of the many volumes published. Every detail seems to have been noted, and the illustrations are splendid. It is nicely bound, and printed on good paper. Butler & Adger, New Haven, Conn., are the publishers.

During the warm months literature, except light fiction, is relegated to the dark and lonely shelves in the library. Even the student, with his serious face and thoughtful movements, forgets to be serious, and laughs gayly at the prank of some fine hero in the summer story. It is a season when the mind seeks rest and recreation, when to burden itself with deep thought or serious study, seems farther from our ideas of justice to ones self. We seek the woods and streams, the flowers and birds and trees, seem to have for each of us some special message of joy. We grow weary of the burden and cast it away, and dream through the long summer day in solitude. Our very ambition has deserted us, and we seek in nature that when no other place can give a solace and joy complete. WARFIELD WEBB.

A Mid-Summer Hummer In Sailors.

Our buyer has just returned from market with a beautiful and carefully selected line of new sailors, and some of them are beauties, but we find we have too many, so we will give our customers the benefit and sell them at one-half the usual selling price. We must have money, so we have decided to close out our stock of trimmed hats and bonnets at ruinously low figures.
All our $6.00 patterns go down to $3.00. All our $5.00 ones at $2.50. All our $3.00 hats at $1.50. They consist of trimmed leghorns, short back sailors, chiffon hats and hats of every shape and style. They must go now regardless of price, to call and see the extreme low figures we have placed on everything pertaining to head gear. All our chiffons, ribbons and flowers are reasonable, mid-summer trimming and four prices cannot be duplicated elsewhere.

STRAY FACTS.

Cairo has a population of 535,000.
Alexandria of 274,000.

Nearly two-thirds of the paper made in the United States is for newspaper printing.

It takes lots of people to look after the Kaiser. There are over 1,500 names on his list of servants, 350 of whom are women, and they have 22 royal palaces and castles to take care of.

In ten years American life insurance companies have doubled their assets, the amount rising from $657,128,642 in 1889 to $1,344, 901,198 in 1898. The increase has been decidedly the greatest since prosperity returned to the country.

American birds have decreased in number nearly 50 per cent. in the last fifteen years.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

The genial and hospitable gentlemen composing the firm of Hays,

LOCAL LINES.

The Great Wallace Shows offer a challenge of $10,000 to produce the quell of the Nelson Family of acrobats, and the Pittsburg Chronicle asserts that this will never be taken, as the world don't contain another such family.

The job department of The Sun Publishing Company has just added more new material than constitutes the entire plant of some competitors.
It is a proper selection, too—the latest and most desirable production of the foremost American foundries. We can please the most exacting customer on any class of letter press printing and the prices will be honest.

The funeral of the late Mr. W. H.
McLee took place last night at the family residence on Trible street at 7:30 o'clock, attended by the Golden Cross Knights and the Odd Fellows.
The remains were taken to Louisville for interment.

Persons smoking out mosquitoes on Broadway between Third and Fourth caused the fire department to be called out about 1 o'clock this morning. It was at first thought that Palmer's dry goods store was on fire.

Mrs. Thomas Leech entertained at cards last night at the Palmer, in honor of Miss Isabelle Hall, of McLeansboro, Ill., the charming guest of Mrs.
William Hughes, of Court street.

The fact that the Great Wallace Shows are composed exclusively of the greatest artists known, and that their property is the best ever built for show purposes, ranks it the highest class circus in the world.

The remains of Louis Wright, colored, who died at the railroad hospital from congestion night before last, were this afternoon shipped to Paris, Tenn., for burial. He formerly resided there.

Mrs. Mattie Atherton, aged 38, died last night at 1309 South Third street. She had been ill for some time.
The burial took place today.

The following amounts were this morning paid out on orders from the county clerk, for work on the county roads: J. W. Eaker, $283.14; J. W.
Houser, $320.15; W. R. Hocker, $212.20 and W. A. Dunaway, $98.25.

Mrs. Eliza Grapes, colored, of the Maxon's Mills neighborhood, died yesterday morning at the age of 65 years.
She owned considerable property in that locality and was well thought of by all. Her remains were shipped today by Undertaker Watkins to Clarksville, Tenn.

Sallie Howard died last night and the remains were interred today.

Oscar Mathis, who was injured in the hand car wreck day before yesterday, was able to return to his home in Boaz this afternoon.

Dan Gardner, who was mangled between two cars in the I. C. yards several days ago, has been discharged from the railroad hospital and is able to get to work again.

Paducah has a new paper, the first issue of which appeared today.
It is a weekly and C. W. Merriweather, colored, is the publisher and editor.

It has been cloudy nearly all day and quite close. The indications this afternoon are for falling weather by night.

What promises to be a hard rain storm was all but on the city at 3:30 o'clock.

THE WALLACE SHOWS.

This big circus institution is making a splendid record this season, receiving nothing but words of praise from the press of every city visited.
The following is taken from a lengthy article which recently appeared in the Mt. Carmel, Pa., Star:

Space alone will not permit our giving credit that is justly due to the great Wallace circus, which showed here yesterday. For good, honest, conscientious work they deserve a lot of good things being said of them.
The man that advertises his wares and then gives even better than his contracts for, is a philanthropist, and his name is "few" and Mr. Wallace can be classed among these few.

Why go into a lengthy dissertation on the individual features of the show?
Their own press notices deal in that kind of goods and we know now that they are of a quality just a shade superior to what it is claimed for them.
If mention must be made, the first to demand recognition would be the Nelson family. Their act is one whole show in itself, and storms of applause greet their work. They stand unsurpassed. A close second is found in the Sticks, in their bicycle "fun."
Their control of the silent steel must be seen to be appreciated.

The Wallace shows come to Paducah on the 8th.

The City of Paducah passed out of Tennessee river last night with a big trip for St. Louis.

Captain Billy Shaw, pilot, took the toss up the Cumberland to Ashland city, near Nashville, where she loaded with ties. Her barges were loaded to 5 1/2 feet. The river fell so rapidly that the boat and barges were compelled to remain there until there is a better stage of water. Captain Shaw arrived home last evening via rail from Nashville.

The steamer Tennessee will leave for Tennessee river this afternoon at 5 o'clock. She has a good trip.

The Luck Fowler pulled out this morning with fair business for Cairo.

Captain Frank Ellison, superintendent of the Cincinnati & Pittsburgh line of of steamers, arrived on the Illinois central last night from Cincinnati.

Captain Ellison's mother, who resides in St. Louis, is here visiting her mother, but will go to Cincinnati with her son and visit his family there leaving here in the morning.

The snagboat E. A. Woodruff is raising snags, sunken flats, and wrecks of old steamboat hulls over at the island.

The Bob Dudley left Nashville today at noon and will arrive tomorrow night leaving next Monday at 10 a. m.
for Clarksville.

Weather cloudy, hot and sultry;
southwest wind.

The H. W. Butterfield arrived from Evansville at 10:30 today and departed at noon. She had paying business in and out.

Mr. Saunders Fowler was out again today on his crutches, making a good effort for an amputee.

The fight with the Louisville & Cincinnati Packets and City of Pittsburgh will not last thirty days, so says one of the best informed and posted steam-men of Cincinnati. He says the City of Pittsburgh is sure to come out second in the race as the other line is too much for her.

River falling here, and business very good with the packets.

Work on the Ouchita, which is on the ways, is being pushed forward very fast.

Mr. James Fructi is out again after a few days illness.

Captain Eph Hallowe returned yesterday from Baden, Baden Springs, Germany. He says he didn't see a single sand bar or a snag in crossing the ocean, going and coming, and that a pilot's berth on an ocean steamer is a soft thing.

Major Ashcraft returned home yesterday on the steamer Tennessee from the National Cemetery at Nihil.

Wm. Love & Sons, steamboat blacksmith and sheet iron shop, are working a good force of help.

The Dick Fowler gives an excursion to Cairo tomorrow. Seventy-five cents round trip. Boat leaves here at 8:30
a. m.
